

Supplementary Data

SUPPLEMENTARY FIG. S1. Node efficiency exhibited significant hemisphere-related differences in the two groups. The node sizes indicate the relative significance of the hemisphere-related differences in the node efficiency, the red colored nodes represent the rightward asymmetries, and the blue colored ones indicate the leftward asymmetries. Statistical significance was reached when $p < 0.001$ using a Bonferroni correction.