Figure S3: Representative example of spots clustering by the k-means algorithm. Groups of localized spots assigned to a single molecule are differently colored. Spatially overlapping groups correspond to single molecules separated in time (> 4 s). Spots with annular shape correspond to single molecules that appeared only once.