

Figure S4 Mismatch distribution based on the pairwise differences between individuals. The observed distribution of the sequence mismatches was multimodal, which corresponds to a stable population, the modeled curve showed a smooth distribution characteristic for expanding populations.

