

Figure U1

Figure U1. Myeloid Hdac3 deletion results in more stable collagen in atherosclerotic lesions.

A and B. Using polarization microscopy on Sirius Red-stained lesions, collagen subtypes were quantified (n=19/18). Statistical analysis was performed using 2-way ANOVA ($P = 0.0002$). Error bars indicate SEM.