

Additional File 15

Additional File 15. miR-187 is the most significant miRNA associated with patient survival. Associations between miRNA expression and LUAC patient survival were assessed using a logrank, Mantel-Haenszel test. Considering all patient samples combined, regardless of smoking histories, miR-187 was the disrupted miRNA most significantly associated with patient survival after multiple testing correction.