

Supplementary figure 2 | Boxplot of mean number of publications per interaction

Despite a positive correlation between degree and the number of publications on a protein in our data, there is no correlation between the degree and the mean number of papers per interaction, as shown here as a boxplot which more explicitly reveals the pattern in the data compared to the scatterplot in supplementary Fig. 1.