

Figure S1. The distribution of human-chimpanzee sequence divergence for syntenic regions of humans and chimpanzees on human chromosome 21. Distance refers to the percentage of different bases across region between the two species.