

Figure S2 This graph shows the fraction of cleaved products from all products (y axis) in a mixture composed of various quantities of deletion mutants of exon 2a, 3 and 6 in a population of mutant and wild-type DNA molecules (x axis). Both T7E1 and Surveyor digestion products are shown. The grey intervals correspond to the variation and the dotted line corresponds to a loess regression model fitting.