

A

B

c

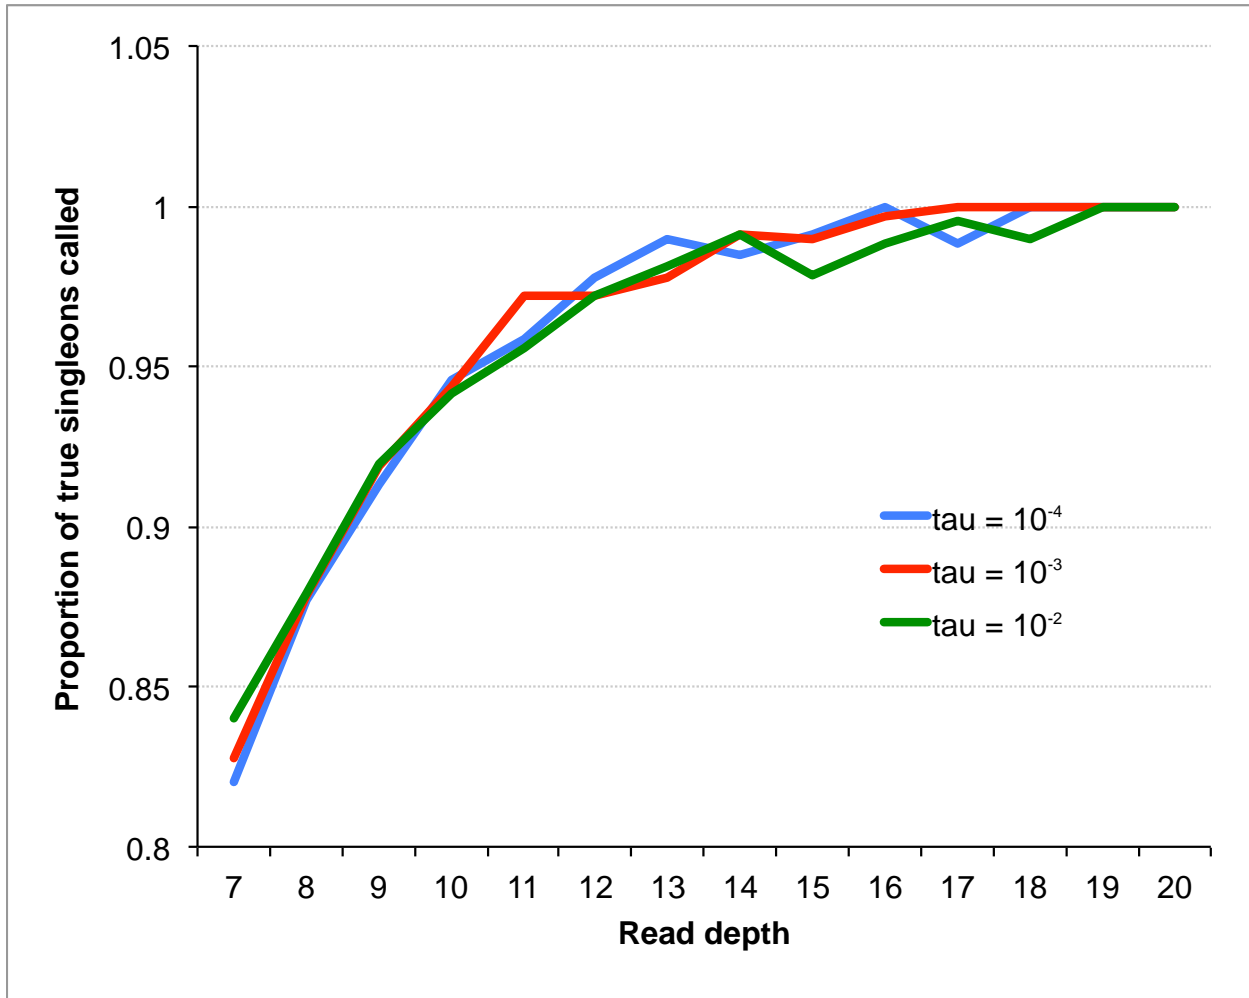

Figure S20 Proportion of true singletons called at a given read depth under scenario A for the reference target individual under three different θ values (A), under scenario B for the reference target individual under three different τ values (B) and under scenario B for the non-reference target individual under three different τ values (C)