

S3 Fig. This axial-oriented montage illustrates where the main of effect of load (0- versus 3-back) was significant. Each red voxel represents that all 16 of the leave-one-participant-out folds were significant (i.e., the intersection of each fold). For illustration purposes, only clusters of at least twenty nearest neighbors are included. (Left = left).