

Supplemental Figure 1

A

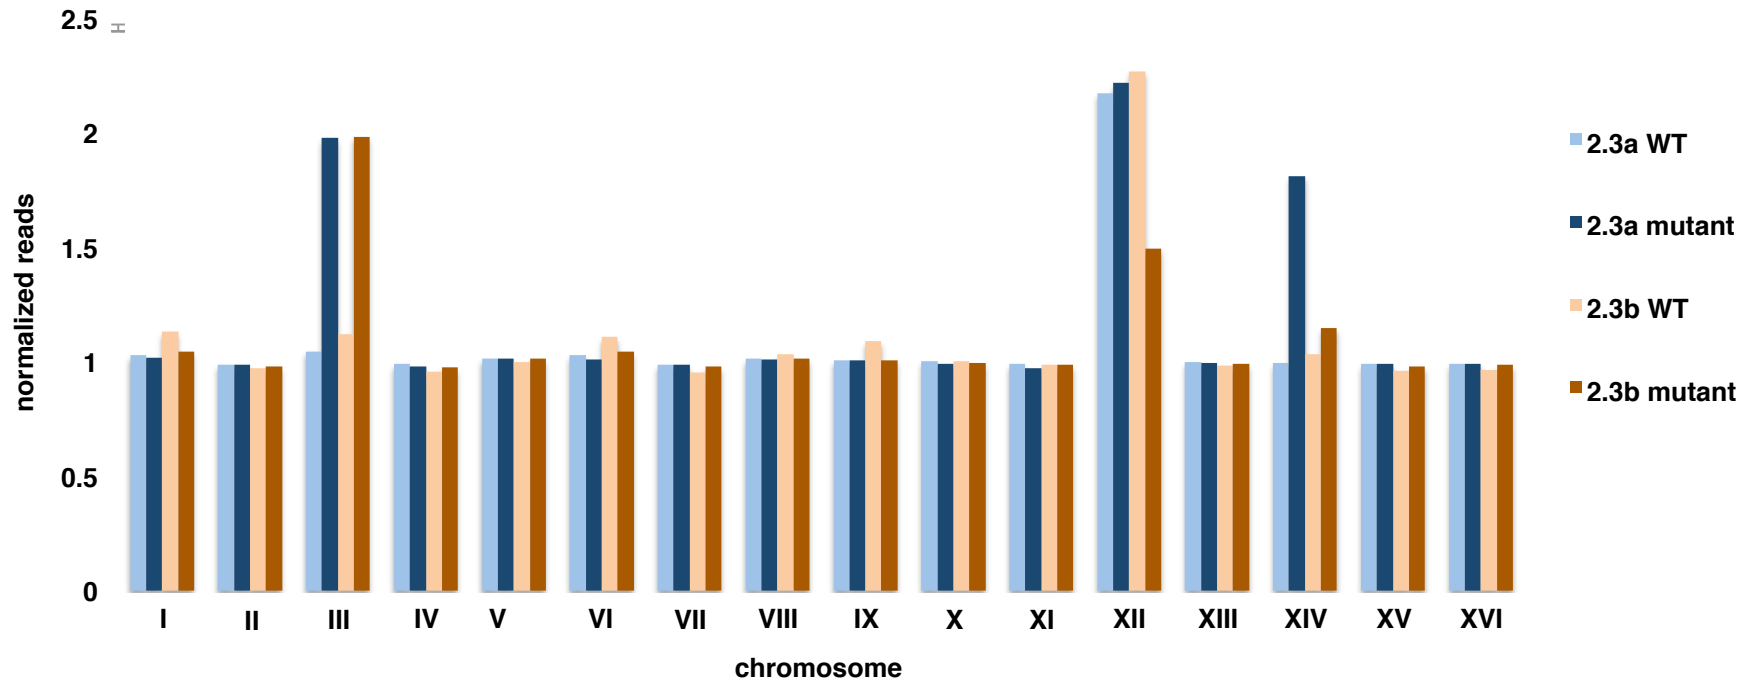

Figure S1. Evidence for disomy in two of the polygenic mutants. (A) Shown are the normalized levels of sequencing reads across each S. cerevisiae chromosome. The elevated reads for chromosomes III and XIV are likely caused by disomy for those chromosomes. The elevated reads for chromosome XII are likely an artifact of the repeated rDNA.