

Figure S3. Proteome of the cell pellet fraction from R. bromii L-63 cultures grown on RUM supplemented with 0.2% of potato starch, resolved by two-dimensional gel electrophoresis. Cell cultures that had achieved an OD_{650} between 0.7 and 0.8 were harvested for proteomic analysis as described in Materials and Methods. Spots corresponding to large GH13 proteins are indicated in the expanded section.