

Figure S4. Proteome of the supernatant fraction of R. bromii L2-63 cultures grown on RUM supplemented with 0.2% potato starch, resolved by two-dimensional gel electrophoresis. This material was from the same cell cultures shown in Figure S3. Spots corresponding to large GH13 proteins are indicated in the expanded section.