

S1 Table. Respondents' evaluation of Additive RRT. Evaluation of additive RRT, including percentage responses for each category. Questions were asked according to a five point Likert scale, with categories condensed for data presentation.

Questions	Responses
How easy or difficult did you find the card method to use?	Very easy / easy	Neither easy nor difficult	Difficult / very difficult
	73.6% (n = 190)	17.4% (n = 45)	8.9% (n = 23)
When using the card method, how protected or unprotected did you feel your answers were?	Very protected / Somewhat protected	Neither protected nor unprotected	Not very protected / not at all protected
	56.5% (n = 143)	30.4% (n = 77)	13.0% (n = 33)
How sensitive do you consider the questions about the quantity of your reptiles that have died in the first year of you owning them?	Very sensitive / somewhat sensitive	Neither sensitive nor insensitive	Not very sensitive / not at all sensitive
	15.9% (n = 41)	26.0% (n = 67)	58.1% (n = 150)
When asked directly, how likely do you think people would be to tell the truth when asked about the quantity of reptiles that have died in the first year?	Very likely / likely	Neither likely nor unlikely	Unlikely / very unlikely
	41.2% (n = 105)	25.5% (n = 65)	33.3% (n = 85)