S8 Fig. The average surface accessibility of amino acid residues in the peptides studied calculated with MOLMOL using a solvent probe radius of 1.4 Å. The conformations obtained in the last 800 ps of MD simulations with time-averaged distance restraints and dihedral angle restraints.