

Figure S6. The distortion function between two serial numbers as a function of the number of base differences between them.