

Supplementary Data

SUPPLEMENTARY FIG. S1. Distribution of mean absolute relative difference (ARD) among participants ($n=57$). The plot shows the percentage of participants with participant-level mean ARD within the given ranges. The participant-level mean ARD is calculated using sensor-capillary glucose pairs across the whole glucose range (black bars) and in non-hypoglycemia (gray bars).