

Fig. 1S. Apparent statistically significant ($P < 0.05$) inverse correlations between physical exercise-induced changes in the levels of OS biomarkers and their initial levels (before the exercise).

