

Supplementary Figure S2

Supplementary Information, Figure S2. FN and FP as a function of sequenced individuals

The x axis is the number of individuals and the y axis is the statistic of interest. In panel a, the false negative is also split into two groups (singleton and nonsingleton group). The confidence interval is calculated by randomly sample x number of individuals from the six Sanger verified individuals.