

Figure S5. Benztropine and clemastine show little to no activity in the cortical myelination assay. Dose response experiments were performed adding test compound to cortical cultures on DIV5 and incubated for an additional eight days as described above. Representative raw data is averaged from 16 image fields per concentration, mean  $\pm$  SEM.