

Figure S3. Average binding and blocking profiles of IgG and IgA antibodies. The dose-response curves for binding (A) or blocking (B) for all IgG and IgA antibodies were averaged to generate a representative curves for each class using R software package. The binding curves for IgG and IgA are significantly different ($p < 0.001$), while there is insufficient evidence to show that IgG and IgA differ in blocking ($p = 0.39$).