

Supplementary Figure

Figure S1. Definitions of the full retinal thickness (A) and the inner retinal thickness (B). The full retinal thickness was measured from the internal limiting membrane to the outer boundary of the retinal pigment epithelium. The inner retinal thickness was measured from the internal limiting membrane to the outer boundary of the inner nuclear layer.

