

Supplementary figure 1. eNOS regulates angiogenic sprouting. Aortas were isolated from the wild type and eNOS knockout mice, and embedded in growth factor-reduced matrigel-coated plates in the presence of EGM-2. After 6 days, images were captured on a bright field microscope at $\times 5$ magnification.