

Supplementary Figure 1: Native salivary gland tissue displays acinar and ductal organization

H&E staining of mouse SMG reveals organized salivary epithelial structures, including acini (triangles), striated ducts (arrows), and excretory ducts (asterisks). Scale bar is 100 μ m