

Supplementary Figure 3: Steady state levels of glutamate and glycine in roots and shoots of drought stressed maize plants

A-B) Steady state levels of glutamate (A) and glycine (B) in leaves and roots of maize plants with sufficient (black) and restricted (white) water supply. Data are means \pm SD of five individual replicates. Asterisks indicates statistical differences as determined by the unpaired t-test (*, $p \leq 0.05$)