Here is a video showing the best way to use a "Decision aid (written document of 4 pages)" by a couple and their family physician when considering doing or not prenatal screening for Down syndrome (or trisomy 21). INTRO

Health professionals who monitor pregnancies must inform pregnant women about tests available to screen for Down syndrome (or trisomy 21). Most people want to be involved in decision making about their health. The use of a decision aid can increase the active involvement of pregnant women in making an informed and shared decision that respects their values and preferences.

The video that you just watched showed the best way to use a "Decision aid (written document of 4 pages)" by a couple and their family physician when considering prenatal screening for Down syndrome. The goal of the following questionnaire is to find out your opinion on the use of this decision aid if you ever had to use it in the future.

In parallel, we are doing a similar project with health professionals who monitor pregnancies to find out their opinion. The objective is to introduce routine use of a decision aid that is adequate and useful for everyone.

Please note:

1. For each question, please check the box which best corresponds to your answer. There are no right or wrong answers. It is your opinion that interests us.
2. Certain statements may seem repetitive. This is due to the study's methodology. Please answer all questions.
3. It is important that you complete the whole questionnaire alone, without any help.
4. By completing this survey, you give your consent to participate in this research project.
5. At the end of the questionnaire, we will ask you to answer a few health-related questions and a few sociodemographic questions.

Your participation is much appreciated, thank you.

Team of the Canada Research Chair in Implementation of Shared Decision Making in Primary Care. Dr. France Légaré, MD, PhD, clinician researcher and titular professor, CHUQ Research Centre, Department of Family Medicine and Emergency Medicine, Faculty of Medicine, Université Laval, Quebec City, Quebec, Canada.

This project is funded by a research grant from Genome Canada and Genome Quebec and was approved by the ethical review boards of CHU de Québec, CSSS Vieille-Capitale and CSSS Alphonse-Desjardins.
