

Supplementary Fig. 2. The reproductive organs exhibiting good fertility at the F₃ generation. The three pictures in the left, middle and right shows a flower with abundant pollen at blooming (left), developing siliques after self-pollination (middle) and cross-pollinated with pollen from traditional B. juncea (right), respectively.