

Supporting Information

“Steroid Biomarkers Revisited – Improved Source Identification of Faecal Remains in Archaeological Soil Material”

S1 Fig. Sampling at the site Dormagen (sampling points marked with circles). Cesspit (A), stable drain with brown filling inside and green filling at the outsides (B), stable area in close proximity to the stable drain (C); photos: Archaeological Heritage Management