

Supplemental Figure S1. Predicted morphine trough concentrations with different intermittent morphine doses given every 6 hours by birthweight. Each boxplot represents steady-state trough concentrations from 1000 simulated neonates with HIE receiving hypothermia. Outliers are not presented. Dashed lines reference target concentrations between 10 to 40 ng/ml.

