

Supplemental Video S1: RAW macrophages were co-cultured for 18 hours with purified spores of E. rostratum and imaged using time-lapse microscopy. Images demonstrate that RAW macrophages are unable to phagocytose E. rostratum spores and hyphae. Additionally, E. rostratum is able to germinate and produce hyphae despite presence of macrophages.