

Figure 2: Boxplot representation of the number of days between infection and first sampling. Exponential, logistic and diffuse refer to the category a dataset belongs to based on the logBF support for the exponential or logistic model. If the log BF in support for either model is  $<5$ , the transmission chain is labeled diffuse.