

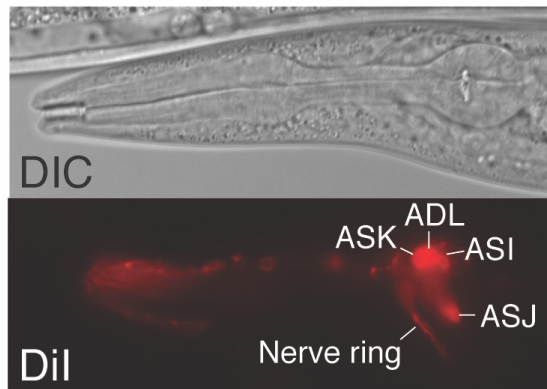

Figure S1 (related to Figure 4). The development of amphid neurons appears superficially normal in mut-16(pk710) adult animals based on their ability to uptake a lyophobic, fluorescent dye. Representative DIC and fluorescent images are shown. The cell bodies of amphid neurons relevant to this study are labeled.

A Wild-type

B mut-16(pk710)

