

Supplementary Figure S5 Domestic ducks in Bangladesh are gathered in enclosures for brief periods during the course of the day. They are housed in these enclosures overnight and released during in the morning where they spend the bulk of the time foraging.