

S2 Fig. Principle component analysis of image heterogeneity. Principal component score plot of normalized perimeter MFs from all four time points showing scans performed at 3 T (filled squares) and 1.5 T (empty squares). The modeled data were not scaled or centered. The displayed T2 Hotelling's tolerance ellipse was set at the 0.05 significance level.