

Fig. S1

Fig. S1. HilD activates invF transcription more profoundly than HilA. The lacZ reporter gene was placed under the transcriptional control of invF promoters into different Salmonella strains.  $\beta$ -galactosidase activity assay was measured following the description in the experimental procedures. Data were obtained from three independent experiments. Results were presented as the mean in Miller units. Error bars indicate standard deviations.