Simulation of Miller's proposal. A: predicted frequency by rank in double-log space with uniform character probability. B: using differential character probability (as determined by Moby Dick). Dashed lines show ideal Zipfian distribution. C: rank of words in Moby Dick against their rank as predicted by Miller.