

Supplemental Fig. 2: Polarized light microscopy images of agarose a free swelling and b cage construct growth from after 112 days of culture. Collagen alignment was present in the free swelling constructs, likely due to the high tissue swelling. Arrows point along construct periphery, + is interior void, dotted lines surround a channel.