

Supplementary Figure 1. Representative image of a root stained with propidium iodide (red) and Oregon Green (green) dyes used to measure root cell length by confocal microscopy. After image capture, cell lengths were measured using ImageJ.