Appendix S4 List of all species and families of Neotropical snakes used in this study and their status of knowledge of geographical distribution. Status of knowledge of geographical distribution: we evaluated, guided by literature and under scrutiny and validation of experts, the geographic distribution reported for each species using the CD. We classified as "poorly-known" (N= 278 spp.) the taxa with few known specimens apparently due to low population density, taxonomic or nomenclature problems, as well as comprising species recently described on the basis of small series (see B criterion in Categories and Criteria 2017-1 in IUCN, see <http://www.iucnredlist.org/technical-documents/categories-and-criteria>); or "well-known" (N= 608 spp.) the opposite.
