

$\text{N}_2\text{O}$  reactivity of a  $[\text{Cu}_2\text{S}]$  complex implies that tetranuclearity imparts oxidative stability to the  $\text{Cu}_2$  site in nitrous oxide reductase.

