

S1: Knotted thylakoid tubules persist in the absence of a pyrenoid

Block face scanning electron microscopy images show pyr- cells (Spinacia RBCS) grown at air. A circle highlights the location where the pyrenoid would normally be expected in a WT cell. For comparison with the main text, (A) is the same as Fig. 1H.