

3-pyridyl inhibitors with novel activity against Trypanosoma cruzi reveal in vitro profiles can aid prediction of putative cytochrome P450 inhibition

Melissa L. Sykes^{1*} and Vicky M. Avery²

1. Discovery Biology, Griffith Institute for Drug Discovery, Griffith University, Nathan, Queensland, Australia. Correspondence to m.sykes@griffith.edu.au

2. Discovery Biology, Griffith Institute for Drug Discovery, Griffith University, Nathan, Queensland, Australia.

Supplementary Figure 1. The criteria used to identify the E_{\max} value of compounds. The E_{\max} for each compound is at least two points in from the beginning of the plateau of activity (circled). The example compound in this graph is the reference drug, nifurtimox.

