

Distribution of adjusted inverse probability weights

Comparison of the adjusted inverse probability weights for respondents (green) and non-respondents (red). Patterns indicate that our follow-up sample is rather a 'representative' subset of the baseline data.

