Title: Draft genome of the Peruvian scallop Argopecten purpuratus

Version: Revision 1

Date: 2/14/2018

Reviewer name: Takeshi Takeuchi, Ph.D

Reviewer Comments to Author:

I found all major questions by the reviewers were answered and sufficient information and data were added in the revised manuscript.

Now I would like to ask the authors to carefully correct some typos.

There are still uncorrected typos which the reviewers pointed out.
Please check the WHOLE sentences again and correct them.

Lines 161-164 and Lines 207-212

Description of animal common names are inconsistent.

For example, "Molluscs", "Mosquito"... should be decapitalized.

Some are singular form and others are plural, which should be consistent.

i.e. "molluscs", "mosquitoes"... or "mollusca", "mosquito"...

In addition, in line 161 "Molluscs" while in line 210 "mollusk". They should be consistent.

Line 210

"Lottia gigantean" should be "Lottia gigantea"

Line 248

Mya stands for "million years ago." So "Mya ago" should be "Mya."
