

Description of Additional Supplementary Files

Supplementary Movie 1: Each step of the design process is animated, showing the limiting aberration fields and how they change as a result of adding specific freeform surfaces to the system, which is also animated.