

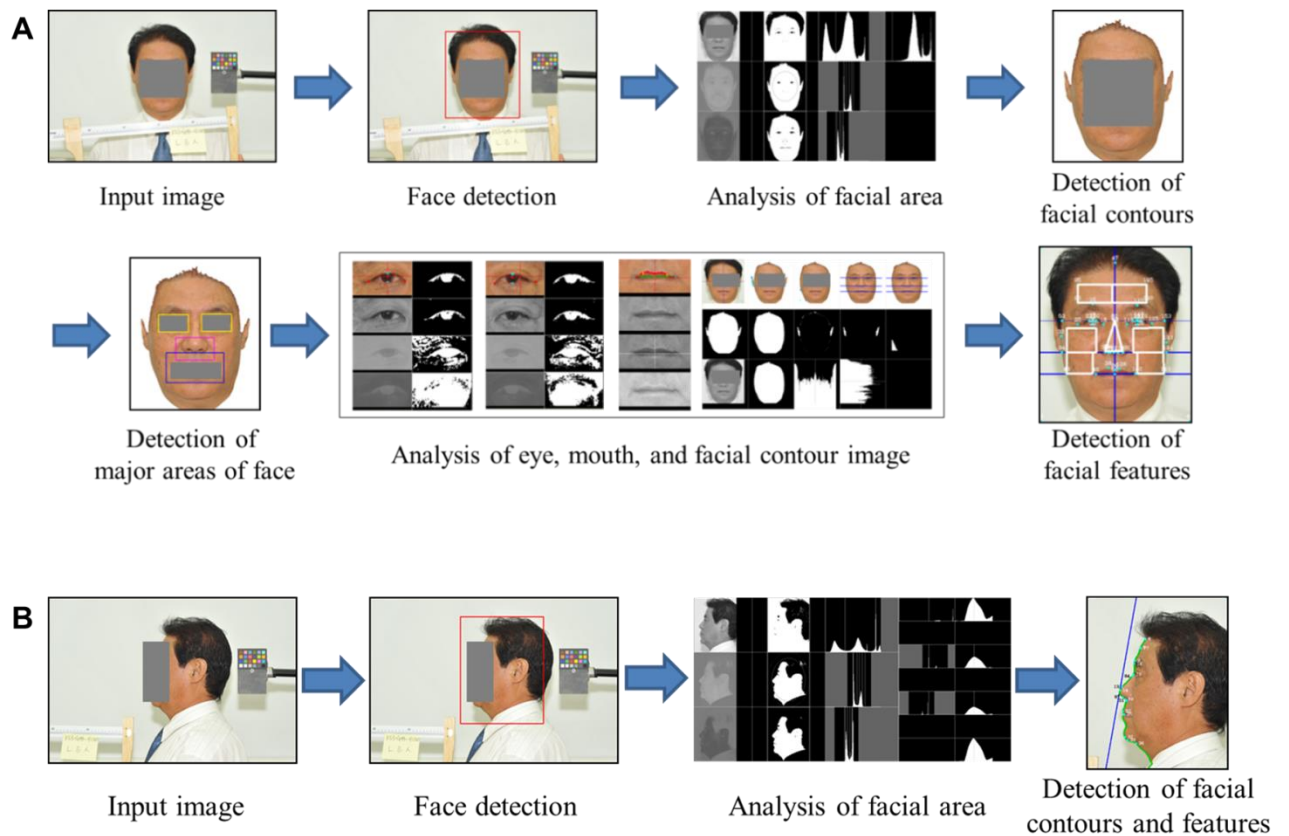

Figure S5: The procedure for facial feature point extraction

The participants were photographed with a neutral expression in both the frontal and profile views, and 23 frontal and seven lateral face points were extracted. Distance, angle, and area measurements were carried out based on in-house facial data acquisition software [25, 29].

(A) frontal image extraction, (B) lateral image extraction.