

S2 Table: Directions of simultaneous interpreting of the SIs.

Subject	Interpreting directions
SI 1	German ↔ English	French → German
SI 2	Italian ↔ English	French → Italian	German → Italian
SI 3	German ↔ English	French → German	Spanish → German
SI 4	German ↔ English	French → German	Italian → German
SI 5	English → German	French → German	Spanish → German	Portuguese → German
SI 6	German ↔ English	French → German
SI 7	German ↔ English	French → German	Spanish → German
SI 8	English → German	French → German	Spanish → German	Italian → German
SI 9	English → German	French → German	Spanish → German	Croatian → German
SI 10	Macedonian ↔ English	Macedonian ↔ Serbian	German → Macedonian
SI 11	German ↔ English	French → German	Swedish → German
SI 12	German ↔ English	French → German	Spanish → German
SI 13	German → Italian	English → Italian	French → Italian
SI 14	German → Italian	English → Italian	French → Italian	Spanish → Italian
SI 15	German ↔ French	English → German
SI 16	German ↔ English	French → German

The symbol '↔' means that SIs can translate into both languages, whereas '→' means that SIs can only work in one direction.