COMMENTS TO AUTHORS

This manuscript is well written by the authors. But there are several things need to be correct:

1. In page 5 line 41: Should it be written as "The structure of transcription activation domain(TAD) is responsible for"?

2. As a review, the references should be the newer, but in the article, forty-three of these references are more than ten years old, some even more than 20 years, over forty percents of the total. I recommend to refer to the literature within ten years.
