

Colour Charges Form – Nature Research Journals*COLOUR FIGURES

Nature Research Journals are committed to providing authors with the highest quality figures, and we use the latest techniques to achieve this reproduction. We recognise, however, that excessive colour figure and page charges can sometimes place an enormous burden on authors. We therefore charge authors a fee of $620/£410/€550 for the first colour figure and $310/£205/€275 per figure for additional colour figures. Authors will be charged in the currency that is most applicable to the corresponding author's address. (Please note that in EU countries VAT will be added if you are unable to provide us with your VAT details below.)

No author will be denied publication based on his/her inability to meet these charges. If we agree that colour is essential but you are unable to meet the costs, they will be waived if you explain the circumstances before your paper is published. Otherwise you will be billed after publication.
