

Fig. S1. Unsupervised analysis by PCA applied to the complete dataset. PCA plots provided by the complete data set that show discrimination patterns between adenocarcinoma (AC) lung tissue versus control tissue and squamous lung carcinoma tissue (SCC) versus control tissue. The contribution of the principal components (PC) to explain the observed variability and the cumulative contribution are also illustrated.